Fast races, featured by the easy victory of Mission Boy, track champion, in the fourth race of a quarter-mile, marked the opening yesterday of the nine-day greyhound race meet at Mid-Continent park.

Several new entrants added uncertainty to the first day's meeting, but the favorites of the day held their own. One of the most popular of the new dogs, and picked by close track followers to be a rival to Mission Boy after absorbing more experience in a disappointing race yesterday, off to a bad start in the third race of three-sixteenths of a mile, Kiowa finished third. He did, however, show exceptional speed in the dash down the stretch and gave promise of being a winner.

Talent Wins All Races. Favorites to win or at least to place in the first five races of the nine-day meet were won yesterday. Rocky Bug, Killarney Lad, Moonshine Wild Bill, Mission Boy, Dutch Bergman, Flying Star and Dutch Bergman, the winners, are all well known on the local track.

Killarney Lad captured the day's hardest fought race from Siskin, a new dog. In the second race of a quarter-mile, Siskin took the lead, but was overhauled by Killarney at the eighth pole. The two hounds staged a pretty battle down the stretch, Killarney Lad winning by a length.

Tommy Gibbons Has Earned a Chance At Jack Dempsey And His Heavyweight Title

Tommy Gibbons has earned the right to meet Jack Dempsey in a decision match for the heavyweight championship which Dempsey now holds. Why?

Gibbons has hung up a knockout record against the field of heavyweights practically as brilliant as that on which Jack Dempsey based his claim to the right to meet Jess Willard. The records prove that, and as one reads down through said records, finding the detailed account of Gibbons' work, one runs into the fact that Gibbons knocked out Bill Brennan in six rounds. And you'll recall that Mr. Brennan stayed 12 rounds with Jack the Champ. That's considerable reason.

Has Defeated Best. Look over the list of Gibbons' victims: Jim Flynn, Carl Morris, Arthur Peakey, Billy Mike, Gunboat Smith, Fred Fulton, Jack Moran and Battling Levinsky. It's the same list that Dempsey showed to the world in asking for a crack at the title he now holds. The only man who worried Gibbons, while knocking out this string, was Willie McGowan. And we know the boy who gave Dempsey trouble.

And the above named victim fell before Tommy while he was leading to handle the big men. It is only within the last season that he has developed into a finished ring man. He has taken on more weight since he decided to go after the heavy crown, and as a result can hit harder.

Good Match for Jack. Aside from the records themselves, a careful study of Gibbons shows him to be the only man in the heavy division who has the assets which make Dempsey a great fighter. These are speed, a terrific walk, cleverness, and the fighting heart. Gibbons goes into the ring with but one thought—to drop his man. And how he does drop them. As far as Gibbons is concerned, he does not depend upon a chance haymaker. He spends a few minutes, if necessary, to study out his man, getting him set. He can take punches, if necessary, while doing this. Then he makes the opening he wants and steps in. The other night he faced Al Reich, one of the classiest of the run of heavies, and dropped the giant Adonis in the first round. Reich, 23 pounds heavier and fast on his feet, was easy picking for Tom.

Gibbons has his heart set on a fight with Dempsey. The fact that Tommy never has seen Dempsey in action isn't worrying him. He doesn't think I can handle him, I've never seen his shifty style, but I have a shifty style of my own," says Tommy confidently.

SMITH TO SCRAP BRITTON FRIDAY

Kansan Boxes "Curley" at Bartlesville—Go 10 Rounds.

Special to The World.—BARTLESVILLE, April 30.—Fight fans of northern Oklahoma and southern Kansas are looking forward with keen interest to the forthcoming bout between "Curley" Smith of Bartlesville and Billy Britton of Scammon, Kan., which will be held in Bartlesville the night of May 6 under the auspices of the Bartlesville post of the Elks.

The bout is scheduled to go 10 rounds. Britton arrived in Bartlesville Thursday night over Pat Walsh, he being awarded the decision after 10 rounds of fighting. Although Britton is a younger and comparatively unknown in this section he has made an enviable record under the management of Ed Cochrane, sporting editor of the Kansas City Journal, who has supreme confidence that his protégé will win through to the front rank in the middleweight class. Britton has demonstrated that he possesses a knockout punch, his record being as follows: Kid Travis, K. O., five rounds; Mel Stevenson, K. O., six rounds; Kid Lewis of Brooklyn, W. O., 27 seconds; Pat Walsh, decision, 10 rounds. Britton also has another victory over Stevenson, one draw and one decision with Ray Long.

Britton is a gentlemanly man, a young fellow who has made a fine impression with fans who have met him since coming to Bartlesville. He started training Friday morning with Warden Smith as his sparring partner.

"Curley" Smith is well known in Bartlesville, where he has fought several battles and his record is one of the best of all the middleweights who have appeared in Oklahoma. He has the following record to his credit: Bob Davis, K. O., eight rounds; Dick Reynolds, K. O., 14 rounds; Kid Travis, K. O., 10 rounds; Joe Sides, K. O., three rounds; Lee Kelly, K. O., three rounds. Paul Sallor, K. O., five rounds. He also has newspaper decisions over Bert Mullen and Paul Roman.

Manager Bill McCarty, who has charge of the fight arrangements for the bout, has announced that on account of the large number of applications for seats from out of town an entire section of the arena has been reserved for mail orders. Two good preliminaries have been scheduled by the committee.

By EDWARD W. COCHRANE.

The return of Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, to the ring after a month's rest is the outstanding feature of the pugilistic calendar in the United States for the current week. The bantam king will fight Pal Moore ten rounds in Louisville Friday night, which is on the eve of the running of the historic Kentucky derby, the racing classic of the year in this country.

This isn't the first time these famous little scappers have met in the humped circle. They have clashed five times and honors now are even. In the first meeting back in 1917, when Lynch had been boxing but two years, he won a decision over Moore in 12 rounds. The following year Moore reversed the result, and on both occasions the other bouts were no-decision affairs and newspaper critics disagreed each time as to the outcome.

Since Lynch won the championship by gaining a decision over Pete Herman in a 15-round bout in New York a short time ago, he has been fighting much better than Moore. The Memphis fight was a real test, and he was on the down grade. The reason for this statement is the fact that he has not shown up as well against the former foe. However, he still is able to put up a splendid argument.

Lynch Should Win. Lynch on the hand, is right at the height of his greatness as a fighter. Ever since he beat Herman he has been doing splendidly against rivals, winning most of his fights rather handily. He made a rather mediocre battle against Young Montreal some time ago, and decided the he was overworked. He took a rest and says he is ready now to step at his fastest pace. When "right" Lynch is a real champion and he should give Moore a trimming, although he will have to stage the final show of the season in Madison Square Garden, New York, Monday night, when he will take on a real contender.

There are other good bouts on the schedule. Tex Rickard is going to stage the final show of the season in Madison Square Garden, New York, Monday night, when he will take on a real contender. Ed O'Brien, a wee little fellow from Columbus, Ohio, is rated as a great little boxer and is claiming for a bout with the Jimmy Wolfe champion of England, who is induced to come out of retirement.

Jack Sharkey and Midget Smith, a pair of bantam championship contenders, will clash in one of the bouts. Sharkey, deserted the bright lights of Broadway after he was stopped by Joe Lynch, and after a rest got into such good condition that he looks up now as a contender for the title again. Smith is a sensational young scrapper developed in New York since the new boxing law went into effect.

Andy Chaney, leading candidate for the championship held by Johnny Kilbuck, king of the featherweights, will box Sammy Slegier. Chaney must win this contest rather decisively if he hopes to stay in front of the field in the race for the first crack at the Cleveland "noncombatant."

Other Good Bouts. In the fourth bout, Johnny Howard and Eddie O'Hare, a pair of hard hitting middleweights, clash.

Chicago fistie followers are going to have just about such a boxing show on Tuesday night when four battles will be staged at an arena at East Chicago, where boxing is permitted. The chief attraction will be a clash between Joe Welling and Sallor, two of the best featherweights. Frankie Mason and Jimmy Kelley will meet. Jimmy Hanlon and Ever Hammer, a pair of veteran lightweights, will also appear.

Billy Britton, a sensational young middleweight from Columbus, Kan.,

Westerners Feature Annual Pennsylvania Relay Carnival

Go With Pal Moore at Louisville Feature of Week's Boxing.

FOREIGN RACERS EN ROUTE HERE

Dario Resta and Sunbeams Head Vanguard of Foreigners.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—Remarkable athletic performance by western athletes were the outstanding feature of the final day of the 27th annual relay carnival of the University of Pennsylvania, staged on Franklin field here this afternoon. On a water soaked track and turf with a cold chilling wind sweeping the field, the tall, lithe and powerful performers from the middle section of the country won a number of important competitions in impressive fashion.

Of the more important college championship races, Illinois captured the four-mile event after a steady race which caused both Cornell and Princeton runners to falter under the strain. The Cedar Rapids high school, also entered a splendid combination relay team in both the high school one mile championships and the two-mile run and raced away with a double victory.

In the individual contests, Weiss of Illinois won the discus throw. Osborne of Virginia, Alberts of Illinois and Murphy of Notre Dame led the high jump at six feet 2.3 inches and on the toss for places won prizes in the order named.

Merrick of Wisconsin, tied with Gardner of Yale in the pole vault at 12 feet six inches and won first place on the toss, while two of the next three places also went to western vaunters. Sandefur of the University of Kansas won first place in the shot put and was second in the discus. Brede of Illinois was second in the javelin throw.

Notwithstanding the heavy track the lowest quiet half mile hailing from Ames, which established a new American record of 7:52.2-5 for two miles at the Drake relays, Des Moines last week, forced Yale to run within 4.5 of a second of the old record of 7:53 to win today in what was the best and most thrilling of all the championship events.

Practically all of the foreign cars are on the sea and two Belgians are expected to arrive within a few days. All of the foreign cars will be rushed from the Atlantic Seaboard to the streets here on the morning of the American drivers and cars will begin to swoop down on the Speedway about May 1.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 30.—"Gimme a ticket to see my son your race" said a proud appearing gentleman who walked into the Speedway office yesterday, laying a roll of bills on the counter. "I want a parking space behind the pits, and a box in front of the finish line. I'm going to follow my boy right through to victory in this race."

He was W. H. Sailer, Lafayette, Ind., father of twenty-year-old Roscoe, who will pilot a Duesenberg special creation in the coming 500-mile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Monday, May 30.

"Roscoe has had hard luck at the Indianapolis track in previous years. I have a feeling that we've got it whipped this time," he said as he wandered out of the office.
